TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

My name is Jonathan (Joe) Faram being the owner & CEO of Faram Aviation Group Ltd.

My company has conducted over 40,000 flight hours of commercial helicopter operations both Nationally & Internationally, of which the Drill Force management team have been associated with during Exploration support & specific lifting tasks.

The Drill Force Teams attitude, operational procedure & HSE standards are in parallel to that expected in the Aviation sector. Thorough!

During the past 21 years Drill Forces management have been associated with my company on numerous contracts (in excess of 2,000 hours) via their previous employer's involvement. Not simply in the field of organising but that too of 'live' repetitive daily operations. Consequently, being initial labourers below the aircraft to that of field managers & head management has resulted in today's disciplines of very mature, sound & professional operators. This has resulted in extremely safe & efficient helicopter operations when utilising aerial support under the Drill Force NZ Ltd banner.

This in depth experience is exemplified during:

- Communication (all sectors)
- Planning / design / mythology
- Risk Assessment & Safety management
- Equipment presentation, including quality control / management of weights & lifting devices
- Operation procedures
- Daily tool box meetings, which include helicopter operations
- Documentation
- End of Contract reporting

As a company we have been very instrumental in breaking new grounds for helicopter utilisation, with the Exploration sector being one of these areas. We (Faram/Drill Force management) developed mythology & equipment which is still instrumental today having played major roles for both National & International Exploration Companies in their plight in discovering viable Petroleum reserves

I have no hesitation in recommending Drill Force's expertise, work ethic & professional ability to any future client & endorse that there association to Helicopter Operations is thorough substantiated.
